To loved ones far away.

How oft in such an hour as this How oft in such an hour as this Will waysurd fancy row Over mountain wave and forest wild To those we dearly lore.

In fancy they are with use now, The friends I lore the best, Though some are in the castern clime, Some in the distant west.

And there are those, long gone to rest
Beneath the churchyard mold.
The hearts that once so truly lared,
in death-one husbed and cold.
Yet though till life's last, sam is set
We'll meet signin no more,
I have those dear once are not last,
But only gone before.

In fancy they are here to-night,
They come at memory's call,
The grave, the gray, the beautiful,
I seem to, see them all.
And thus at twilight's solemn hour
They ever come to me,
The lost, the far away,
All five an memory.

THE BALLAD OF THE GAITERS, BOOTS | SHOES HOW AN OLD MAID GOT MARRIED.

A lady lived in Belleville 19 Whose name was Sallie Spluggin

Whose name was Sallie Spinggins, And Sallie had an eye upon Young, bandsone Jerry Smuggins, Al Sallie highed to win his love, A ruar are did defeat! For Sallie, hot a Chinese, belle, I had meet enormous feel.

Besides, also wore the call-akia abors
Made in that country town.
Which made most an outrageous soits
which made most an outrageous soits
And though she greet forlors and sad,
And sigbed at her mishaps;
Yet Jerry knew full well that abo
Was always on her tops.

But Ballie took the hint at last,
And then she took the parers,
and read—Ye Godst what all the girl
She can such curious capers
She read of J. G. Brown's Store,
And of his stylish galters—

And then she throught of Jerry too, And of the great surprise To see her feetate trin und peat, So much reduced in size! Her gaiters goi—with brother Tom At once she did repair, Anticipating food result, Unto the county Fair.

Now Tom, the rogue, gly as a crow, A cletter lad and smart, Resolved to aid his sister some, And play a winning part, Now Battle she could act well, And knowing well the trick, She took a seat and accreamed aloud Looked wild—began to kick.

Tom soon brought Jerry to hee aid,
And long and boul complained Against the carelessness by me and
All long and boul complained
All long bouling for the bruise,
Beigid her paitered feet—
He started back in wrapt surprise—
The charm was then complete.

And he awarded hand and heart, His farm and cattle there,

And no exwerter that and nearly like farm and cattle there,

As the fairest of the fair,
As the fairest of the fair,
And Sally like a happy life—

From more-till night is merry,
And though abe does not drink a drop,
East loves good Than and Jerny
lenty more of the same kind of Galters, cheep, drawlie and symmetrical, also a
